

THE PUBLIC HISTORIAN

“Writing and Publishing Strategies to reach Our Varied Publics”

A faculty/graduate student workshop

Dr. Sarah Case, Editor of The Public Historian, will offer a workshop on writing for a wide array of audiences beyond the academy. This discussion, aimed primarily at scholars with an interest in public-facing history, will focus on how to approach various styles of writing and publishing: scholarly public history articles; reviews; blogs; and op-eds.

Wednesday
Sept. 6, 2023

102 LeConte
Hall

3:00- 5:00 PM

Department of History
Franklin College of Arts and Sciences
UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

VOLUME 3
FEBRUARY 2016

THE JOURNAL OF
THE NATIONAL COUNCIL
ON PUBLIC HISTORY