

Brandon Munda
150 Westpark Dr. #106 Athens, GA 30606
(478) 951-0808 bmunda@uga.edu

EDUCATION

Masters of Arts Expected: May 2015
History
Advisor: Ben Ehlers
University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia

Bachelor of Science Received: May 2013
Double Major in Chemistry and History
Emory University Atlanta, Georgia

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Graduate Teaching Assistant August 2013 –
University of Georgia, HIST 2302: Western Society 1500-Present. Supervisor: Steven Soper
HIST 2111: American History to 1865. Supervisor: Josh Haynes
HIST 2302: Western Society 1500-Present. Supervisor: John Morrow
Responsible for evaluating students' performance in the course, including grading, as well as meeting with students outside of class during office hours.

Guest Lectures

“The War of the Spanish Succession”, University of Georgia, HIST 3371: Tudor-Stuart England.
“God, Gold, Glory, Guns and Goods – the Path of European Imperialism”, University of Georgia, HIST 2302: Western Society 1500-Present.

Teaching Assistant Fall and Spring Semesters: August 2010 - May 2013
Emory University, CHEM226L Organic Chemistry Lab. Supervisor: Jose Soria
Responsible for teaching laboratory procedure and organic chemistry concepts to students. Provide end of semester assessments on students to Supervisor for grading purposes. Served additionally as senior Teaching Assistant supervising other TA's Fall of 2012 and Spring 2013.

AREAS OF INTEREST

Atlantic World, Early Modern Europe, Intelligence and Espionage, War & Society, Diplomatic History, Imperial Studies, State Formation, Piracy

PAPERS AND TALKS PRESENTED

September 2014: “Whispers in an Age of Change: The English and Spanish Intelligence Systems at the turn of the 18th Century” – presented at 15th Annual Transatlantic History Conference at the University of Texas – Arlington.

March 2014: “The Protector’s Decision: Motivations and Perspectives behind the invasion of Acadia” – presented at 16th Annual Dalhousie University History Across the Disciplines Conference

CONFERENCES ATTENDED

September 2014: 15th Annual Transatlantic History Conference at the University of Texas – Arlington.

March 2014: 16th Annual Dalhousie University History Across the Disciplines Conference. “Barriers and Bridges: Movement in the Atlantic”

ACADEMIC SERVICE

History Graduate Student Association Treasurer May 2014 – Present
Responsible for management and allocation of funds raised held by the History Graduate Student Association at the University of Georgia.

AWARDS AND GRANTS

University of Georgia Graduate School Teaching Assistantship
Graduate level merit scholarship rewarding the cost of tuition as well as an additional stipend dependent upon service within the department of history as a teaching assistant.

Emory Woodruff Scholarship August 2009 – May 2013
Undergraduate merit scholarship rewarding a stipend equal to tuition, fees, University room and board, and meal plan costs.

LANGUAGES

English: Fluent Proficiency
Spanish: Research Proficiency